THE telegraph last night informed us that Governor Wolfley has tendered his resignation to the President. THE RE-PUBLICAN deeply regrets his resignation. Governor Wolfley has given the Territory a clean, honest and fearless administration. He made an earnest fight against the Democratic holdovers and finally won. It was his misfortune to be bitterly opposed from the very day of his appointment by men who ought to have been among the foremost to uphold him. Men claiming to be Republicans fought him with all their vigor when they found it impossible to use him for their nefarious and dishonest schemes. But his honesty and manhood stood against them a firm barrier until at last their nalice, aided by stabs from those whom he himself had helped into power accomplished its purpose. It has been
